GAME BASICS

Shenmue is a complex game with myriad gaming elements. It may take you a little while to get the hang of how things work. Here are a few tips to help get you up and running. You'll find even more information in the chapters that follow.

EXPLORATION

The world you're entering is filled with people and places. Each of these people has information that may or may not be relevant to your journey. A single conversation can completely change the course of the game. Pay close attention to who you talk to and what they say. You don't want to miss a valuable clue.

There are also countless places to go. Not all buildings can be explored freely, but those that can hold all kinds of amazing sights. Be sure to check out everything. Nearly everything can be looked at and often manipulated. To look around, hold down [R] and use the directional pad to scan the area. Things of interest are automatically "Locked-on" to and can sometimes be picked up or turned on and off. If an object can be manipulated, a @ appears in the bottom right corner of the screen. Pick up everything and anything and who knows what you'll find.

GAME PROGRESSION

There is no particular pace you have to keep in playing Shenmue. You can go through the game as quickly as possible, or you can spend an entire day playing Hang-On at the You Arcade if you like. If you really want to experience everything the game has to offer, take your time. Talk to lots of people, play the minigames, even practice your fighting skills until you have all of the moves mastered. There's plenty to do every day.

Keep in mind that events fall in a certain order. It's actually possible to miss some by triggering other events farther down the story line. Take into account what you want to see and make sure you do the right thing to make the next event occur. Randomly talking to people on the street is fun, but if you're looking for a specific clue you might accidentally trigger an event that cancels out the event you were hoping to see.

There isn't really a preferred route through the game either. It's all up to you, and it makes the game fun to play over and over again. So have fun and mix things up a bit and you'll enjoy the experience even more.

MAGIC WEATHER

The Shenmue world is a dynamic place and things change every day. The weather is no exception. There are sunny, rainy, and snowy days. This may not seem important, but it does have an effect on the game. Certain events won't occur on rainy days. After all, who would send their kids out to play in the rain during December?

After you finish the game at least once, you can access weather options. If you'd like, you can set the game to mimic the real weather patterns that occurred during the game's scope in 1986. Just check out the game options and choose Actual Weather.

THE CLOCK

Shenmue runs on its own time, but it operates just like the real world. Shops open and close, people go to work in the morning and come home at night; even the sun rises and sets each day. Ryo can't stay out all night and sleep all day. He's got places to go and people to see. Pay very close attention to the clock as your day progresses. The clock appears in the bottom right corner of the screen. You need to have a good idea of what time it is throughout the day, so you can keep your appointments and buy the things you need.

Ryo gets up at 8:30 a.m. every morning and has to be home by 11:30 p.m. each night. What you do between those times is your business. If Ryo stays out too late, he's automatically zapped back home and forced to go to bed.

THE NOTEBOOK

Ryo's notebook is your most valuable item. The clues you receive from the people you meet are recorded in it after you talk to them. You can use this book at any time to refresh your memory about conversations that you've had. The notebook can be accessed within the menu, or you can pull it up automatically by pressing ⓧ while exploring. This really comes in handy if you have to put down the game for a few days. When you come back, check out the notebook to remember where you were.

BATTLES

You encounter two types of battles: QTE and Free Battle. QTEs (Quick Timer Events) require fast reflexes and nimble fingers: Commands appear onscreen that you must quickly act out, or you may lose the event. Free Battles give you more control over the action using the fighting skills Ryo's learned throughout his adventures. This is a lot like playing Sega's other smash hit Virtua Fighter, except in Shenmue you may be facing several opponents at the same time.

QTE

You never know when Ryo will be in danger. Thugs and street punks are everywhere and they're always looking for a fight. It's up to you to see him safely through some of these QTE encounters. QTEs normally use four buttons: ⬅, ➡, ⓐ, and ⓑ. Each of these buttons handles a multitude of actions. Throughout this guide we've given you the proper commands to follow, but do your best not to concentrate on these pages—these events are just too cool to miss!

Free Battles

Ryo is conveniently well trained in the martial arts. You'll put his skills and your fingers to the test over and over again throughout your adventure. Free Battles are a lot like Sega's other fighting games that you know and love. Find out more about the amazing Free Battle system in the "Fighting" section of this guide.

ITEMS

There are hundreds of items in Shenmue. Some of them can help you out on your quest, while others are purely for your enjoyment. You can find items lying around here and there, get them from friends, win them as prizes, or break down and buy them from a store. Your more useful items are easily accessible in the main menu. Select an item to see it close up. If it has a use, you can use it by selecting it. Other less useful items, collectibles and tapes, must be viewed within their own menu. Select them from the bar on the bottom of the main menu. Some of the items are only available from the Passport Disc. These extremely rare items are just for your enjoyment. They serve no purpose in the game. Find out more about all of the items available in Shenmue in the "Items" section.

MONEY

Ryo doesn't have much money when the game begins. He gets an allowance of 500 Yen a day, but it won't stretch very far. Use your money wisely. At first, buy Technique Scrolls from Bunkado Antiques and play a few minigames. After you get a job and start pulling in a lot more money, you can start buying all the cool little collectibles this game has to offer.

MINIGAMES

One of the best parts of Shenmue is all of the minigames you can play. You'll find games such as Darts 7, Hang-On, Space Harrier, Excite QTE2, and QTE Title at the You Arcade in Dobuita. They cost a small amount of Yen to play, but who could resist? You can even win prizes from minigames if you get high scores or beat the game. Check out the "Minigames" section to learn more about what awaits you.

CHARACTERS

MAIN CHARACTERS

Shenmue's story revolves around the following characters. These are the people that you encounter most often throughout your adventure.

Ryo Hazuki

Role: Main Character
Gender: Male
Age: 18
Height: 5'9"
Weight: 143 lbs.
Blood Type: O
Birth Date: 11/29
Zodiac Sign: Sagittarius
Where: Everywhere

Ryo is the main character and hero of this story. He was born and raised at the Hazuki (Bukan) Dojo in Yokosuka by his father after his mother died of an illness when he was three years old. Although Ine-san, the live-in housekeeper, and Fuku-san, his father's student, also live there, his father Iwao was Ryo's only living relation—until, of course, Lan Di murdered him.

Ryo began training in the Hazuki Style of jujitsu when he was very young. This training enabled him to grow very strong, both physically and mentally. Although he harbors a strong love and devotion to the martial arts, he hasn't expressed much interest in succeeding his father as master of the Dojo.

Ryo is well behaved and knows how to handle himself in a fight. Consequently, he's well known in the neighborhood of Yokosuka. Rather stubborn and competitive to a fault, he tends to act impulsively rather than think through a situation logically. A good example of this is the fact that despite knowing how Nozomi Harasaki feels about him, he hides his feelings and acts indifferently toward her.

Young Ryo

Role: Main Character at age 7
 Gender: Male
 Age: 7
 Height: 4'3"
 Weight: 55 lbs.
 Blood Type: O
 Birth Date: 11/29
 Zodiac Sign: Sagittarius
 Where: Flashback

At age 7, Ryo began to seriously study the martial arts under his father's tutelage. Around this time, he was dubbed Suedehead Ryobo by Setsu Abe, a shopkeeper, and was often scolded for being bratty. He experienced his first feelings of love for a girl during this time, but when a friend of his teased him about it, Ryo started a fight with him. Since then, he has shied away from any involvement with girls.

Iwao Hazuki

Role: Ryo's Father
 Gender: Male
 Age: 46
 Weight: 177 lbs.
 Height: 5'9"
 Blood Type: A
 Birth Date: 5/3
 Zodiac Sign: Taurus
 Where: Cutscenes Only

Iwao is Ryo's father and the current master of the Hazuki Style martial art. He is character of high morals who respects devotion to one's convictions, proper manners, and above all, trust. He is very calm and composed, personifying simplicity and courage. His only hobby is Shodo (calligraphy) which he often uses when writing letters and postcards. As a master of martial arts, he is a strict Sensei and is never satisfied with relying solely on one's natural talent. He has continued to adhere to a strict training regimen throughout his adult life. When he was young, he is said to have set out on an overseas journey to learn from the various great masters of the martial arts. Although his son Ryo sometimes rebels against his strictness, he still respects him as a mentor and dreams of emulating him.

Shenmue
 Part I

Lan Di

Role: Mysterious Leader of a Criminal Organization
 Gender: Male
 Age: 31
 Height: 6'1"
 Weight: 188 lbs.
 Blood Type: A
 Birth Date: Unknown
 Zodiac Sign: Unknown
 Where: Events Only

Lan Di is one of the high-ranking members of a Chinese cartel called the Chi You Men, which secretly controls black-market trading in China. He is an expert in a legendary martial art, which was thought to have been lost and to exist only as fable. His cold, merciless personality makes his martial art prowess seem even fiercer, and his coercive glare keeps people at a distance. Even within Chi You Men, only a few people can talk to him without feeling intimidated or belittled. He and Iwao Hazuki appear to be connected by some secret involving the Dragon Mirror.

Masayuki Fukuhara

Role: Hazuki Disciple
 Gender: Male
 Age: 26
 Height: 5'8"
 Weight: 150 lbs.
 Blood Type: O
 Birth Date: 8/6
 Zodiac Sign: Leo
 Where: Hazuki Dojo

Fuku-san has been a live-in student of the Hazuki Dojo for almost 10 years. To Ryo, he is more like a member of the family. With his warm and gentle personality, Fuku-san makes every effort to achieve whatever goals he sets. Iwao, liking his diligence and honesty, took him in as a live-in student despite Fuku-san's lack of natural talent and the fact that he is a slow learner.

Since then, he has been practicing Hazuki-style jujitsu with Ryo. He sometimes jumps to conclusions and acts impulsively, which often results in failure. Nevertheless, because of his frank, easy-to-talk-to personality, he is someone Ryo can go to for advice.

Daily Routine A
Time	Location
08:30	Hazuki Dojo
16:00	Hazuki Garden
17:00	Near entrance to Hazuki house/Hazuki Garden (loop)
19:00	His Room

During the period when Ryo is busy looking for the Phoenix Mirror, Fuku-san spend his day below the cherry tree. When Ryo nears the family Dojo, it triggers an event with Fuku-san.

Note

Fuku-san's actions are closely tied to Ryo's actions. If you can't locate him, he's probably waiting nearby to give Ryo a useful bit of information. Once you've sparred with Fuku-san, you can continue to do so every morning until Ryo obtains a job at the harbor.

Ine Hayata

Role: Hazuki Household Maid
 Gender: Female
 Age: 64
 Height: 5'1"
 Weight: 106 lbs.
 Blood Type: A
 Birth Date: 8/9
 Zodiac Sign: Leo
 Where: Hazuki House

For more than 15 years, Ine-san has been the live-in housekeeper of the Hazuki household and has taken care of all of the domestic housework and cooking as well as the family budget. She is a quiet, hardworking woman who is modest but emotionally strong. Aside from her sewing, cleaning, and washing talents, she is an excellent cook. In particular, her traditional Japanese dishes can be compared to those of a professional chef. While she is rather old-fashioned and very particular about manners and discipline, Ine-san is quite generous and secretly keeps watch over Ryo. She is an indispensable member of the Hazuki household.

Daily Routine A
Time	Location
08:00	Her Room/Family Room/Altar Room/Kitchen (loop)

After you get the Sword Guard from the antique shop, Ine kneels in front of the family altar and remains there until Ryo speaks to her.

 Height: 5'1"
 Weight: 95 lbs.
 Blood Type: A
 Birthdate: 9/9
 Zodiac Sign: Virgo

Ling Sha Hua is a mysterious girl who grew up surrounded by nature. Her innocent looks hide her power and courage created by the wilderness of China. She is pure and simple, with great compassion and strength. Though her presence is shrouded in mystery, Ryo's fate will be deeply influenced by her. Appearing in his mind several times, she guides him on his journey.

Nozomi Harasaki

Role: Schoolmate of Ryo's
 Gender: Female
 Age: 18
 Height: 5'5"
 Weight: 104 lbs.
 Blood Type: AB
 Birth Date: 8/23
 Zodiac Sign: Virgo
 Where: Dobuita—Aida Flower Shop

Nozomi is secretly in love with Ryo. She was born in Japan but moved to Vancouver, Canada when she was very young. She then moved to Yokosuka, where her grandmother lives, when she was a junior high student. Initially, classmates bullied her, discriminating against her because of the different way she did things due to her different culture. At that time, Ryo would often stand up for her. Since then, her love for him has grown over the years. She has decided that she is going to confess her love to him. She has her own opinions but is considerate to others as well. She usually helps out at Aida Florist, her grandmother's flower shop. She hopes to be an interpreter or translator in the future.

Daily Routine A
Time	Location
08:30	Inside Aida Flower Shop
09:15	In front of Aida Flower Shop
22:00	Inside Aida Flower Shop

Nozomi tends the flower shop throughout the day. She can almost always be found outside the shop. Near closing time she goes inside to work. Her post outside the shop gives her a good perspective on events around the town, so she often has valuable information. However she's normally more interested in what's going on with Ryo.

Daily Routine A
Time	Location
08:30	In Front of Aida Flower Shop
19:00	Closes Store

Due to her busy schedule as a college student, she sometimes closes the store early to attend classes. On these days she disappears when the lights come on in the evening.

Note

Nozomi often leaves the store to take part in a scene elsewhere. However she normally returns to the store unless it's already time for her to close for the evening.

Master Yobun Chen

 Gender: Male
 Age: 60
 Height: 5'3"
 Weight: 155 lbs.
 Blood Type: A
 Birth Date: 10/10
 Zodiac Sign: Libra
 Where: New Yokosuka Harbor—Old Warehouse #8

Master Chen is one of a few wealthy Chinese magnates living abroad in Japan, and he's a big name in the trading business. He owns numerous trading operations worldwide, including the one in Yokosuka. While he deals in a variety of high-end merchandise, Master Chen is particularly well versed in antiques and has multiple patrons. He is said to own numerous works of valuable art, some of which are rumored to be national treasures, but nobody knows for sure. He looks gentle and kind at first glance, but he's a very calculating buyer with a stoic composure, no matter what. In grooming his son, Gui Zhang, to become his successor, he has made sure to instruct him fully in the Yan Qing Style, a martial art handed down over multiple generations in their family.

Shenmue

Gui Zhang Chen

Age: 30
Height: 5'9"
Weight: 155 lbs.
Blood Type: A
Birth Date: 2/10
Zodiac Sign: Aquarius
Where: New Yokosuka Harbor—Old Warehouse #8

Gui Zhang is the son of Master Chen, the owner of a Chinese trading company. While he is still learning how to manage the company, he also works as his father's bodyguard. He always seems to be calm and gives the impression of being cool-headed and ever composed. However, this is due in large part to his remarkably expressionless face. Born in Yokohama, Japan, Gui Zhang was trained in the Yan Qing Style of martial arts by his father since early childhood and has continued training hard ever since. Because of their similar background, at heart, he sympathizes with Ryo, but on the outside, acts coldly toward him.

Daily Routine (for Yobun and Gui Zhang)
Time Location
08:30-24:00 Old Warehouse #8

Note

Gui Zhang spends his days at the harbor and picks up on all sorts of information. If you call him ahead of time, you'll find him at the top of the warehouse stairs. He is also involved in many events around the harbor.

Chai

Role: Mysterious Assassin for Lan Di's Organization
Gender: Male
Age: Unknown
Height: 5'3"
Weight: 121 lbs.
Blood Type: AB
Birth Date: Unknown
Zodiac Sign: Unknown
Where: Events Only

A low ranking member of the Chi You Men, Chai aspires to ascend the ranks by currying favor with Lan Di. After Lan Di steals the Dragon Mirror from Hazuki Sensei, Chai spies on Ryo and learns of the existence of the Phoenix Mirror. He believes that if he can somehow obtain the Phoenix Mirror, Lan Di will reward him with a cushy position in the upper ranks of the organizational hierarchy. His strange physique enables Chai to utilize a seemingly super-human fighting technique and therefore he is tricky to battle against. (He brags that he is self-taught in the Tang Lang Style, but his style of fighting hardly shows it.) He is extremely suspicious looking and creepy. Sly and vindictive, Chai will use any means, no matter how vicious or unfair, to get what he wants.

Man in Black Suit A

Role: Lan Di's Henchman
Gender: Male
Age: 29
Height: 5'9"
Weight: 155 lbs.
Blood Type: B
Birth Date: 11/12

Where: Events Only

An elite member of the Chi You Men, this man works directly under Lan Di. Always dressed in a black suit, he is a formidable warrior and ordinary fighters are no match for him. His main strength is in the Tong Bei Style, which is known to be the most powerful martial art in terms of one-on-one combat. When he attacks, he is merciless. Both his real name and place of origin are unknown. His previous career is also a mystery.

Man in Black Suit B

Gender: Male
Age: 31
Height: 5'11"
Weight: 185 lbs.
Blood Type: O
Birth Date: 2/25
Zodiac Sign: Pisces
Where: Events Only

This man is also under the direct supervision of Lan Di and is always by his side like a shadow. He is a master of the Ying Zhao Gong Style of martial arts, which maximizes finger, hand, and grip strength. This strength was evident in the opening scene by the way he easily held back Ryo as he entered the Dojo. With his expressionless poker face, he executes his missions mechanically and without remorse. He seems to be a little eccentric.

Characters Working on Dobuita Street

These characters spend most of their day inside a shop working. Before their shops open you may find them walking through Dobuita, but most of them won't be willing to assist you until they have opened their stores.

Where: Bar Yokosuka

A hostess at Bar Yokosuka, Akemi began working there after being introduced to the bartender, Saijō-san by a friend shortly after graduating from high school. Akemi has many admirers, including Fukusan, who frequently drinks there just to be near her. Before the incident, he came in quite often, but his grief and depression have prevented him from coming by recently. Akemi seems to be a bit concerned about him, or perhaps she simply misses his company.

Weight: 166 lbs.
Blood Type: O
Birth Date: 8/15

Because he considers their organization a necessary evil, he pays attention to the local community and runs his office quietly. He seems to like the self-assured Tom, and often tells him stories of ninkyo.

Previously, until his son moved to Kyushu on business, he lived with his eldest son; now he lives alone. He turned 73 years old this year.

Where: Asia Travel Co.

This vain young woman works at the Asia Travel Co. After dropping out of a private girl's high school, she went to Tokyo on her own to try and make it as a model. Etsuko gave up her ambition after being cheated out of her money by a man pretending to be her agent. Worn out physically and emotionally, she returned to Yokosuka five years ago. A year later, in a fit of despair, she applied for a job as a tour conductor at Asia Travel Co., but was assigned to be an office clerk instead. Although she was bitter about not being able to travel and almost quit, she started working, and now seems to enjoy it. She has very wasteful spending habits and her debts, due mostly to an over-reliance on credit cards, are increasing. Luckily, she doesn't gamble, so her biggest concern is how to pay back the ever-increasing debts.

He likes to see people (children in particular) smiling, and that's the reason he keeps trying to bake new types of bread. He devotes himself to developing new bread day and night. Flourishing competitors such as Tom's Hot Dogs, the Funny Bear Burgers hamburger place, and Bob's Pizzeria are a threat to his baker. However whenever he hears his daughter say, "My daddy's bread is the best!" all his worries disappear.

Gender: Male Age: 38
Height: 5'11" Weight: 177lbs.
Blood Type: O Birth Date: 3/15
Zodiac Sign: Pisces
Where: Tamura Quality Meats

It is said that Hiroshi already reached his present height and weight when he was only 12 years old. His strength was illustrated by the fact that when Masaru (who is 10 years older than him) was a high school student, he took him out on one of their "fighting expeditions." Masaru boasted of Hiroshi, saying that he was "my right-hand man." By the time Hiroshi became a high school student, no one anywhere was a match for him. Contrary to his image as a fighter, Hiroshi is a warm person. He likes to win fights, but doesn't actually like fighting. Therefore he has never picked a fight on his own before.

After graduating from high school, while many of his pals were doing nothing, Hiroshi took over his father's business without hesitation. Soon afterward, he got married to Michiko, a girl who had once been a troublemaker in her own right. They now have a child and Hiroshi has matured. He is the vice-chairman of the Dobuita Shopkeepers Association. Ryo, who has something reckless about him, reminds Hiroshi of his younger days, but he feels annoyed when senior members of the community compare him unfavorably by saying, "Ryo is not as vulgar as you were."

Zodiac Sign: Pisces
Where: Bar Linda

Hiroyuki owns the Bar Linda. After quitting his high school in Shikoku, he came to Tokyo dreaming of city life, but found that reality didn't live up to his dreams. He had to work at a construction site in the daytime and work as a bartender at night to make ends meet. During that time, nearly 10 years ago he met Kyoko Hayashida at a club in Shinjuku. A year later, they started dating secretly because Kyoko came from an upstanding family who cared about differences in social status. Nevertheless, they were very happy together.

Four years later, when Kyoko's mother attempted to pay him off if he would leave her, Hiroyuki refused the bribe but made up his mind to leave Kyoko for her sake. However, when Kyoko found out that her mother had tried to bribe him, she asked him to elope with her. They fled to a small town and had a simple wedding ceremony with no one in attendance and proceeded to lead a humble, but happy life. They saved money by working part-time jobs with the intention of opening their own bar someday. They moved to Yokosuka three years ago and they opened the bar. Kyoko uses Hayashi as her last name, hiding the fact that they are a married couple. The name, Linda, is taken from Kyoko's real name, Hayashida. The two now live a peaceful, happy life.

Blood Type: O Birth Date: 2/2
Zodiac Sign: Aquarius
Where: Maeda Barbershop

A rather stubborn man, Ichiro runs an old-fashioned barbershop by the old-fashioned principle, "Real men wear their hair cropped short," and he means it. The fact that young men's longer hairstyles are becoming increasingly more popular is of no concern to him. He stands by his conviction that men's hair should only be crewcut style. He even wishes to cut Tom's hair in this style, going so far as to offer to pay Tom to let him do so. Ryo has been his customer for a long time, which makes it difficult for Ryo to explain current trends to him. Whenever he goes, Maeda-san always rants and raves, preaching to Ryo while he is trimming his hair. Partly because of that, when Ryo was a boy, he had the impression that Ichiro was a "scary man." That imprint makes Ryo afraid of him even now.

Although Maeda-san is very strict with boys, he is a gentle, sensible father toward his daughter Miki. He respects his daughter's freedom and lets her do what she likes as long as she takes responsibility for her actions. He does, however, make it a rule that she exchanges greetings properly, and prohibits her from riding on a motorcycle. He hopes that his future son-in-law, whoever he may be, will take over the shop one day, but Miki seems to have rather different plans for the shop.

At the Smiley Flower Shop, reliable Yuriko runs the business smoothly while Nemoto is busy managing the restaurant. He chose Yuriko as a shop clerk and a candidate for his wife from the beginning because she was very pretty and intelligent. He has high hopes that she will find him attractive someday. Junko, the cheerful owner of the Manpukuken Ramen experienced a tragic misfortune in her life. The man she fell madly in love with and married passed away at a young age, leaving her a widow with only his unique Chinese recipe for ramen noodle soup to remind her of him. This proved to be enough to enable her to establish the popular local ramen shop that is now quite prosperous. In fact, the taste of this broth is so delicious that people come from all over the country to this small shop in Dobuita just to eat this special ramen. Even on the

They officially began dating one year after they met, but decided to keep their relationship a secret from her family, who, caring only about social status, would have forbidden them from meeting.

However, when Kyoko found out that her mother had tried to bribe him, she asked him to elope with her. They fled to a small town, where they got married at a church with no one in attendance. Although she was a bride with a veil in plain clothes, she was very happy. The couple worked day and night from then on. While it must have been hard for Kyoko, raised in opulence, to adjust, she never complained and often spoke at length on how much better her life felt. Finally, after years of scrimping and saving, they realized their dream by opening a bar in Yokosuka three years ago. Their bar, called "Linda" is in a small two-story building with the bar on the first floor and their small three-room apartment on the second floor. Natsuki Sumiya

Age: 39
Height: 5'0" Weight: 115 lbs.
Blood Type: O
Birth Date: 12/19
Zodiac Sign: Sagittarius
Where: Residential District—Dobuita

Natsuki has dreamed of being a housewife since she was a child. After graduating from college, she got a job for a construction company for the short term, but ended up working there for almost 10 years. When she was nearly 30—just as she was starting to think she'd never find someone worth marrying—she accompanied her boss to a meeting one day with Mikio Sumiya, an elite government official of the Ministry of Construction. She and Mikio fell in love and married after a brief courtship; so at last, Natsuki is fulfilling her dream. Her fellow workers still talk about her story as a fairytale ending. The couple bought a house in Sakuragaoka when their first son Kotaro was born, 11 years ago. Mikio is frequently transferred and is now in Hiroshima living alone. Sumitani really likes chitchatting. One of her pastimes is to gather information on show business from TV programs and magazines and be the first to tell friends about it. Furthermore, she likes to gossip about her neighbors. She is not satisfied unless she knows everything that's happening in the community. She might have useful information for Ryo, but there are times when she slanders people. She may appear to be concerned about an incident, but more likely she just wants to know so she can spread the word.

Height: 5'1" Weight: 106 lbs.
Blood Type: B Birth Date: 11/24
Zodiac Sign: Sagittarius
Where: Dobuita—Abe Store

Setsu resided in Manchuria with her husband Tomekichi, who was a schoolteacher, during the Japanese occupation of the prewar period. When they tried to return to Japan during the war, Tomekichi and Setsu were separated in the confusion of the evacuation. Finally, Setsu arrived in Tokyo, but found her house had been burnt down and she couldn't locate her parents. So she headed for Yokosuka where Tomekichi's parents lived. Although their house remained standing, Tomekichi's parents were missing. Setsu decided to settle there in the event that her husband or his parents might return. She opened a small candy store in the entrance hall of the house. She has been running this small shop alone ever since. Everyday, for the past 40 years, she prepared a meal for two in the hope that her missing Tomekichi might one day come home. Although she lives alone, she enjoys the company of the children coming to the shop for candy and snacks. The past few years have seen her growing increasingly more senile and she imagines there is a connection between herself and Ryo, like that of a mother and a son. Much to Ryo's chagrin, she doesn't acknowledge the fact that he is grown and always treats him like a little boy.

With a strong affection for the martial arts from childhood, he trained until he was drafted into the military shortly after turning 30. He was sent with the Kanto army to the front lines. Due to his knowledge of communication techniques, developed while working at a manufacturer of Morse code generators, he was used on various missions (including decoding Chinese and Russian codes) as a technical officer. When the war was over, he married and moved to Sakuragaoka at his wife's urging because she loved the cherry trees there. They even planted a cherry tree in their home garden. When his wife died, he cut it down, trying to break the link with his past, but now he seems to regret doing so. Ine-san has long been a close acquaintance with Shigeo. This friendship has deepened since his wife died. He now harbors feelings of affection for Ine-san, but he avoids showing her these feelings, instead often treating Ine-san and Ryo with indifference. Years ago, when Shigeo became acquainted with Iwao, the master of Hazuki Dojo, he restarted his training again. Iwao and Shigeo developed a close friendship and always drank sake together after their practices. Shigeo stopped training again after he hurt his back. He is very strict about manners and behavior, even with the children gathering around the Abe Store. He has often scolded Ryo in the past for various reasons.

Since his love affair 10 years ago, he has never had any luck with women, let alone any chances of a second marriage. He has started to collect brochures from marriage counseling centers for middle-aged and senior people, thinking ahead to his future after Minako gets married and leaves home.

The reason for the Nomura's problems is Yukie, their missing daughter. Yukie left home six months ago, saying "I'm going to Tokyo" and never returned. Their marriage is on the verge of collapse, and they are both tired of blaming each other. The residents of Sakuragaoka haven't noticed what has happened to the family.

Gender: Male Age: 7
Height: 3'11" Weight: 77 lbs.
Blood Type: A Birth Date: 2/24
Zodiac Sign: Pisces
Where: Residential District—Dobuita

Tatsuya has very strict parents who nag him endlessly about his studies so he goes out often and comes back late, which makes his parents even angrier. His monthly allowance from his parents is only 500 Yen, so he doesn't waste money. He can't afford to try the Capsule Toy Machine, his favorite pastime next to eating snacks, so he always tries to persuade Ryo, and any other adults he knows, to give him money. He sometimes flatters Nozomi and Mayumi to finagle money out of them. Sly examples include him saying, "Ryo said you are cute," to Mayumi and then pestering her for money. When Ryo found out, he scolded Tatsuya severely, but the young boy's never learned his lesson. Ryo sympathizes with him a bit because he also liked the Capsule Toy Machines when he was a child, but Iwao didn't give him enough money for it either. Still, Ryo worries about Tatsuya because he shows no interest in making friends and is more concerned with trying to get prizes.

Tsuyoshi Takashima

Role: Classic Drunk
Gender: Male Age: 56
Height: 5'3" Weight: 146 lbs.
Blood Type: B Birth Date: 11/4
Zodiac Sign: Scorpio
Where: Residential District—Dobuita

Tsuyoshi is a middle-aged man whose ambition as a young man was to be an actor. However, his poor acting ability only allowed him to get minor roles in which he was invariably killed. Although his roles were only minor, he had the chance to appear with some of the more famous actors of that era, but he doesn't like to boast about it. Nowadays, he always pretends to be drunk, which is probably the best acting he's ever done.

Like his friend Kota, he is crazy about soccer and the two of them never get tired of talking about it. His dream is to be a goalkeeper and play in the World Cup with Kota. He is an excellent student, excels in logic, and his grades are among the highest in the class. He is particularly good at science and mathematics. His score in mathematics is top among all the classes in his grade. He often does Kota's homework for him. He likes physical education too, but he can't do certain bar exercises in gymnastics.

The plan for the Takimoto's house has been frequently altered and he is now attempting to carry out the third plan. He is disgusted with Takimoto-san, who keeps changing the construction plan, but he continues without complaining. They aren't making much progress with the construction so it's a relief that there's no deadline. Because he is married and has a five-year-old daughter, he goes home daily before sunset.

Zodiac Sign: Virgo
Where: Residential District—Dobuita

Though Yoshikazu continues to wear a suit and carry a briefcase, he lost his job recently due to the company's bankruptcy. He hasn't had the courage to tell his wife and children about his situation. He leaves home, pretending to go to work as usual, but wanders about Dobuita, killing time.

Yuji Hirano

Role: Younger Classmate at Ryo's High School
Gender: Male Age: 16
Height: 5'9" Weight: 141 lbs.
Blood Type: B Birth Date: 4/23
Zodiac Sign: Taurus
Where: Residential District—Dobuita

Yuji lives in Sakuragaoka and has an older sister, Minako, who is a student at a women's college. He doesn't fantasize about, nor have many expectations of girls because he was brought up with a sister who acts one way in front of the family and then completely different (pretending to be ladylike) in front of boys. He feels very awkward when girls come up to him to ask, "Do you know what kind of girl Ryo likes?" He has mixed feelings because he respects Ryo as a strong and cool guy, but he often feels second rate in comparison. Watching the way his sister acts, he can't help thinking that college would be useless. Instead, he wishes to live like Ryo, who has a firm objective. Because he has no particular interest at the moment, Yuji frequents the arcade on his way home, leaving the difficult thinking till later. Maybe he and his sister think similarly, though they are not aware of it.

Animals

Surely you've seen the dogs and cats and various other animals walking around. Well, whether you've been wondering about them or not, here's some information on who they are. Now you can call them by name when you cross paths.

Kitten

Role: Kitten Events
Gender: Female Age: 0
Body Length: Unknown Weight: Unknown
Birth Date: 10/16
Location: Yamanose

In the middle of a typhoon, this sweet kitty was born to a black cat living among the shrubs of Sakuragaoka Park. She's a tabby cat with black and white stripes, the only survivor of a litter of three. A cold snap and consistently bad weather caused the early demise of her black-and-white siblings. She grew up quickly and was just getting old enough to move around when her mother was run over by a black car. The two had been attempting to move to a nearby park when this occurred. Being so tiny, Kitty wasn't able to understand what had happened to her mother, but she did realize that her mother had managed to save her life. Kitty's leg was injured in the accident so she was unable to continue the journey or even return to her birthplace. Megumi found her crying by the road and she now lives in a cardboard box, with a roof and towel bedding, at the neighborhood shrine. It is much more comfortable than living in the park and she is content because the children come and feed her. A white male cat that looks similar to her has been seen around the Yamanose and Sakuragaoka areas and it is thought that it might be her father.

Shenmue Park

Black Cat (Kuro)

Role: Extra
Gender: Female Age: 1
Body Length: 1'8" Weight: 7 lbs.
Location: Dobuita

Kuro is a stray cat whose extensive territory includes Sakuragaoka and Yamanose. She looks a lot like the mother of Megumi's kitten living in Yamanose Shrine and is likely to be the kitten's aunt. Yuriko Kikuchi, of the Smiley Flower Shop, once wanted to keep Kuro, but gave up because she lives in an apartment that won't allow pets. Instead, Yuriko took the cat to a vet to be spayed, as it was the only thing she could do for her.

White Cat (Shiro)

Role: Extra
Gender: Male Age: 3
Body Length: 1'9" Weight: 9 lbs.
Location: Yamanose and Sakuragaoka

Shiro is a stray cat living in the vicinity of Yamanose and Sakuragaoka. Originally he was a beautiful white cat, however now he looks grayish because he doesn't like to groom himself. Megumi's kitten seems to resemble Shiro. People say that he must be the kitten's father. However, the truth is unknown.

Yellow Cat (Ki)

Role: Extra
Gender: Male Age: 2
Body Length: 1'7" Weight: 7 lbs.
Location: New Yokosuka Harbor

This stray cat, which lives in the vicinity of Yamanose and Sakuragaoka, seems to have been abandoned by a family that lived in Yamanose until last year when they moved out. Often seen fighting with a big white cat over territory and food, Ki seems to be weaker than the white one and often is seen hiding under the bushes.

Brown Dog (Cha)

Role: Extra
Gender: Male Age: 6
Body Length: 2'8" Weight: 46 lbs.
Location: Dobuita

This dog mooches off the residents in Dobuita. Wearing no collar, Cha seems to be a stray, but he still has a sleek coat of fur. Maybe somebody is feeding and taking care of Cha regularly. Or perhaps a lazy owner who wanted to save time taking the dog for a walk might have released him from his chain.

White Dog (Shiro)

Role: Extra
Gender: Female Age: 5
Body Length: 2'6" Weight: 40 lbs.
Location: New Yokosuka Harbor

This dog wanders about the residential area and Dobuita and seems to be too old to bark or run around. Due to Shiro's mild disposition, other dogs living in Dobuita or the residential areas are seldom seen fighting with Shiro over territory.

Pigeon (Dove)

Role: Animal
Gender: Male Age: Unknown
Body Length: 1'4" Weight: Unknown
Location: New Yokosuka Harbor

There is a flock of pigeons in New Yokosuka Harbor. Among the numerous gray pigeons are a few white pigeons and dark pigeons. They are tame and won't fly away unless you get really close to them. An office girl in the harbor is said to have named all of the pigeons.

Seagull

Role: Animal
Gender: Female Age: Unknown
Body Length: 2'0" Weight: Unknown
Location: New Yokosuka Harbor

Flocks of seagulls fly in the sky above the New Yokosuka Harbor. They are not as tame as the pigeons and therefore seldom land on the ground or fly low. They are on constant watch for the chance to snatch away fish left behind by fishermen or steal the pigeon feed thrown by workers.

The car also almost hit Yamagishi-san, who lives near the candy store in Sakuragaoka, so you'll want to speak with him right away.

Note

When given the option, feed the kitten the Dried Fish from the shrine. Doing so adds a note to your notebook. As the game progresses you can continue to help take care of the kitten by feeding it food that can be bought from either of the Tomato Convenience Stores, the Abe Store, or with food found in the house.

Shenmue

MAPS

The world of Shenmue takes place in five main areas: the Hazuki house, Yamanose, Sakuragaoka, Dobuita, and New Yokosuka Harbor. These locations are large and filled with many homes, businesses, and people. Use this chapter to both acquaint yourself with the various places you'll go and figure out exactly where something is located. You can also determine which people commonly frequent a location, the items you'll find there, and what major events take place in that location. If you use this chapter in combination with the walkthrough, you should have a very easy time getting around.

HAZUKI HOUSE

The Hazuki residence was originally a temple, which the Hazuki family came to occupy when it lost viability due to the absence of a chief priest. This explains why the residence looks so formal. The imposing front gate is a remnant of that era.

YAMANOSE

Originally, the area was a small mountain. At the time, there was nothing but a solitary temple standing on its peak and a shrine perched midway up, but after the war, large-scale construction of private residences began. Even so, today it is still possible to catch a glimpse of a deep forest by taking just a single step away from the road.

FIGHTING STRATEGIES

In Shenmue, you must battle your way through several confrontations. In fact, that may be the only way to find out important information in your quest to find the mysterious man that murdered Ryo's father.

You may either learn techniques from people you speak to in your travels or purchase Technique Scrolls from the local antique shop. You may even find a couple of Technique Scrolls in the Hazuki house.

It's important to practice these techniques whenever you have the opportunity. Fukuhara is always willing to spar with you in the mornings. This is a good opportunity to practice the techniques you have learned.

OFFENSE

There's more to attacking your opponent than just mashing buttons. Patience pays off in a big way in Shenmue. If you just blindly attack your opponents, they'll constantly counter your attacks and make you pay for it. Consider what you're doing when fighting. Take into account the distance between you and your opponent, the number of enemies in the area, and your opponents' attack style. All of these factor into your best course of action.

Not all opponents are powerful and well trained. Most of these enemies can be dispatched with single-hit attacks. More powerful enemies, those that actually play a larger part in the story than just appearing in a battle, require thought and timing. It's typically best with these fighters to use short combos or powerful single-blow attacks. You'll also do well against such enemies if you master the art of counterattacking.

In battles against a single person you can toy with you opponent a bit. Hang back and let him make the first move, then react with an attack of your own. In situations where you're facing multiple opponents, choose attacks that sweep a wide area. That way you can attack several opponents at once.

Most opponents are very aggressive. They stick very close to you and launch a never-ending assault. This makes it difficult for you to launch complex attacks, but you can use certain moves to push your opponents back. Doing so gives you a bit more time to think your strategy through and to launch complicated techniques.

Shenmue
Part 1

DEFENSE

A good defense is even more important than a strong offense. Blocking is only partially effective. You actually need to learn how to counterattack. Doing so gives you a lot of extra opportunities to attack and completely shuts down your opponent's offense.

Countering an opponent's attack is easy enough. Just press Y when your opponent attacks and Ryo deflects the attack. This often leaves your opponent completely defenseless for a brief moment. Use this time to attack.

You can also duck attacks using Y. This move can be followed with a variety of attacks covered in this section. Master these and no one will be able to stand before you.

Registered Moves

In Shenmue, you can register, or preset, one move you have learned at a time. Pick one move from the moves scroll to be executed by pressing only R during a battle. The R simply replaces the necessary combo presses. To preset a move, use the cursor to select a move and press A. You can recognize the registered move on your move scroll by the large "R" on the tag.

Practice and Evolution

Ryo must practice his moves daily to become more proficient at them. As he gains experience, his attacks become more effective, and some of his attacks evolve into even stronger attacks. The only moves that Ryo cannot practice by himself are throw moves, because they require an opponent. Make sure you practice as much as you can every day so you gain experience quickly.

There are many places to practice. The easiest place to go is the Hazuki Dojo. You can practice alone there and eventually spar with Fuku-san. You can also practice at Sakuragaoka Park, the vacant parking lot in Dobuita, and Warehouse #4 in New Yokosuka Harbor.

Learning New Moves

Ryo begins the game with a wide variety of attacks at his disposal, but throughout the course of the game he can learn even more. There are three ways to learn: You can teach Ryo some moves on your own, purchase or find scrolls that teach Ryo a move when read, or learn moves from characters Ryo meets.

Ryo can teach himself only a few moves. These are any basic moves that don't appear on his Move Scroll at the beginning of the game. To learn them, practice somewhere and try the move out. Not all moves are added to the scroll.

You can find Technique Scrolls in Ryo's home and at Bunkado Antiques in Dobuita. Find these scrolls as early as possible, so you can begin using them right away. The ones sold at Bunkado are pretty pricey, so you may have to hold off until later in the game when you get a bit more money.

Those taught by other characters are out of your control. Just be sure that you accept whenever a character offers to teach you a move. Listen to your teacher carefully and perform the move properly to add it to Ryo's arsenal.

Technique Scrolls

You can purchase most of the Technique Scrolls from Bunkado Antiques, though they are expensive. Practice these, and all of the moves noted above, to perform devastating attacks.

Twin Blades Technique Scroll

Investigate the box on the veranda at the Hazuki House. The Twin Blades move is recorded there.

Shadow Reaper Technique Scroll

Look on the desk in Fukuhara's room to find the Shadow Reaper scroll.

Stab Armor Technique Scroll

Investigate a shelf in the basement underneath the Hazuki House Dojo. The Stab Armor move is recorded there, but it is written in Chinese. To learn this move you must call Master Chen (61-5647) to have the scroll translated around the time that Ryo is buying his ticket to Hong Kong.

Mud Spider Technique Scroll

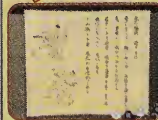

This can be acquired at Bunkado Antiques for 1,000 Yen. Read it to acquire the Mud Spider move.

Crawl Cyclone Technique Scroll

This can be acquired at Bunkado Antiques for 1,000 Yen. Read it to acquire the Crawl Cyclone move.

Tiger Storm Technique Scroll

This can be acquired at Bunkado Antiques for 2,000 Yen. Read it to acquire the Tiger Storm move.

Arm Break Fire Technique Scroll

This can be acquired at Bunkado Antiques for 3,000 Yen. Read it to acquire the Arm Break Fire move.

Mysterious Scroll

This is behind a wall scroll in the Hazuki Family's Dojo. If you try to read the scroll you'll find it is written in Chinese. A move is recorded there, but you cannot acquire it until you call Master Chen (61-5647) and Gui Zhang answers. He will talk about the scroll and tell Ryo to hang on to it.

Rising Flash Scroll

The Rising Flash Scroll can be purchased at Bunkado Antiques for 500 Yen. Read it to learn the Rising Flash move.

Shenmue

FIGHTING TECHNIQUES

Ryo's fighting skills take several forms. He has punching attacks, kicking attacks, throw moves, guard moves, and combos. All of the following moves have been divided into these groups.

Note

All commands assume that Ryo is facing to the right. This may be opposite the way you learn them in the game.

Punches

Punches are good attacks to start with because they are generally the easiest to learn. Though punch attacks are simple, don't underestimate their powerful effects.

Twist Knuckle (Basic) ⇐, ⊗

Unlike the Elbow Slam, this blow is thrown horizontally in a sweeping hook.

Tiger Knuckle (Basic) ⊗

The Tiger Knuckle is a punch aimed at the jinchu, a pressure point between the nose and mouth.

Elbow Slam (Basic) ⇒, ⊗

This move delivers a downward, rotating blow from the forearm, aimed at the opponent's collarbone.

Elbow Assault (Basic) ⇒, ⇒, ⊗

The Elbow Assault targets the center of the opponent's body with a full-body rush.

Upper Knuckle (Basic) ⇐, ⇐, ⊗

This is a move where the practitioner momentarily lowers then raises his body while swinging to strike the opponent in the jaw.

Sleeve Strike (Basic) ⇒, ⇐, ⊗

This move involves taking one step forward with the rear leg and punching at a mid-level target with the fist.

Rain Thrust (Basic) ⇐, ⇒, ⊗

The Rain Thrust is a straight punch aimed at a pressure point on the right side of the opponent's neck.

Big Wheel (Basic) ⊗ + Ⓐ

The Big Wheel is a powerful variation of the Elbow Slam. Aimed at the opponent's collarbone, it features a diagonal blow struck once the practitioner closes in.

Twin Hand Waves (Basic) ⇒, ⊗ + Ⓐ

This move involves advancing a step and striking the opponent's chest and jaw with the palm and entire forearm. The impact creates a shockwave that affects the opponent's internal organs.

Backfist Willow (Basic) ⇐, ⊗ + Ⓐ

This is a surprise attack with a spinning backfist. The spinning motion increases the power of the blow.

Miral Flash (Basic) ⇐, ⊗

This move utilizes the running speed of the practitioner to deliver a diagonally-cutting blow to the area between the shoulder and the nape of the neck.

Avalanche Lance (Basic) ⇒, ⇒, ⊗ + A

This move strikes the pit of the opponent's stomach with an elbow bent at an acute angle, similar to a Lance Thrust. Experts can do this move while spinning, to evade attacks.

Katana Mist Slash (Basic) ⇐, ⇐, ⊗ + A

The practitioner advances one step with the forward leg and delivers a slashing blow to the opponent's side with the side of the palm.

Pit Blow (Basic) ⇒, ⊗

This double punch begins with a step forward and a mid-level strike with the leading fist, followed by a second punch to the same target with the other hand. Masters of this move can add an elbow strike.

Rising Flash (Technique Scroll) ⇒, ⇐, ⇐, ⊗

After lowering his body momentarily, the practitioner then springs upward to deliver a blow to the opponent's chin.

Rabbit's Revenge (Basic) ⊗ (enemy behind you)

Having an enemy behind you is a dangerous situation. Use this quick twisting punch to turn yourself around and force your opponent back.

Twin Blades (Technique Scroll) ⇐, ⇒, ⇒, ⊗

The practitioner lands a chop to the opponent's neck using the sides of the open hands. When this technique is mastered, the practitioner can repeat the attack after the initial strike.

Double Blow (Basic) ⇒, ⊗ + A

The practitioner firmly places one palm forward on the enemy's body, then steels himself and slams the palm of the free hand into the back of the other hand in a devastating blow.

Stab Armor (Technique Scroll) ⇒, ⇐, ⇐, ⊗ + A

Iwao Hazuki learned this move in China. The practitioner strikes a penetrating blow with the palms using power from a twist of the back. Experts can make the blow even more powerful by stepping in deeper.

Kicks

Though using kicks allows for a longer reach to your opponent, they are typically slower to execute. Always protect yourself while performing a kick attack. Using L as well as ⊗ and A can result in stronger moves.

Swallow Flip (Learned) ⇐, ⊗, A, ⊗

This advanced move from the Yang Qing Style involves deflecting the opponent's attack and kicking the opponent's legs at the same time. It is a closely kept secret and not easily mastered.

Crescent Kick (Basic) A

The Crescent Kick is unleashed like an upward sword stroke and aimed at the opponent's head.

Trample Kick (Basic) ⇒, A

This move is similar to a so-called front kick, but it's delivered using the entire underside of the foot in a stamping action while targeting the vital organs in the torso.

Side Reaper Kick (Basic) ⇐, A

This is a low, decisive kick aimed at the outside of the opponent's knee.

Against Cascade (Basic) ⇒, ⇒, A

In this flying knee move, the practitioner leaps upward to kick while restraining the opponent with both hands. Masters of this move can increase its destructive power.

Surplice Slash (Basic) ⇐, ⇐, A

This back roundhouse kick strikes in a downward motion diagonally across the opponent's body. The path of the kick resembles the surplice worn by Buddhist monks.

Thunder Kick (Basic) ⇒, ⇐, A

This kick begins as a high outside spin kick, but ends as a heel drop. The path of the kick is compact, and those who master this move can follow a middle kick with this technique.

Hold Against Leg (Basic) ⇐, ⇒, A

This move involves using the power of the forward leg to deliver a low to mid-level kick to the opponent.

Brutal Tiger (Basic) ⇒, ⇐, X + A

This is a high-speed reverse roundhouse kick. Those who have not yet mastered the move usually find themselves off-balance when they miss, but experts can recover with ease.

Dark Moon (Basic) ⇐, ⇒, X + A

A kick delivered while flipping forward in mid-air, this is one of the more unusual moves in the Hazuki Style. Experts leave no openings for an attack after executing this move.

Destroy Protections (Basic) Y + A

This strange kick is very slow and has a short range of motion. It's very difficult to use and not very effective in any situation. Use it more to insult your enemy than to damage him.

Cyclone Kick (Basic) L, A

This flying back roundhouse kick is powerful due to the jump and rotation, but is also easy to dodge. Masters of the move can jump higher to kick.

Cyclone Kick (Basic) L, X + A

A flying back kick, this powerful move aims a diagonally slicing kick at the base of the opponent's neck.

Swallow Dive (Learned) ⇐, A

This move from the Yang Qing Style is reminiscent of taekwondo. The initial kick is a feint, and after the opponent is lured in, the practitioner intercepts with the heel drop.

Tornado Kick (Learned) ⇒, ⇒, A, A

This daring move uses the momentum from the first spin kick to spin again and deliver a powerful second kick.

Crawl Cyclone (Technique Scroll) ⇒, ⇐, ⇐, A

With this move, the practitioner crouches and spins rapidly on the pivot leg while using the other leg to sweep out the opponent's legs.

Mud Spider (Technique Scroll) ⇐, ⇒, ⇒, (A)

With this move, the practitioner slides toward the opponent and kicks upward with the leg, aiming for the abdomen. Experts can also aim for the jaw.

Twin Swallow Leap (Technique Scroll) ⇐, ⇒, ⇒, (X) + (A)

This is a simple flying kick, but in the hands of an expert, a heel drop can be added after landing from the first kick.

Shadow Reaper (Technique Scroll) [L], (Y) + (A)

While running, the practitioner suddenly slides forward along the ground to sweep the feet out from under the opponent. Experts can twist to make the attack stronger.

Foot Mower (Basic) (A) (enemy behind you)

If an enemy gets behind you, this is a quick way to turn around while forcing your opponent off. It interrupts some attacks and keeps your enemies from sneaking up on you.

Shenmue

Throws

Your opponent must be standing in a certain position for you to correctly execute a throw. If you fail in your throw attempt, the move automatically changes to an arm grab. Throws need to be practiced to perfect their execution.

Overthrow (Basic) (B)

With this move, the practitioner takes the opponent's arm and lowers the body while grabbing the opponent's collar, lifting the opponent over the back and throwing him.

Sweep Throw (Basic) ⇒, (B)

This move involves quickly turning and pulling the opponent's collar, then using the leg to sweep the opponent's inner thigh upward to throw. In judo, this move is called "uchimata."

Vortex Throw (Basic) ⇐, (B), ⇒, ⇐, (A)

In this so-called sacrifice throw, similar to the judo technique of the same name, the practitioner falls backward to throw the opponent overhead to the rear. Though the throw is effective on its own, adding the last three commands to the end causes Ryo to flip onto his opponent, causing extra damage.

Mist Reaper (Basic) ⇒, ⇒, (B)

With this move, the practitioner grabs the opponent's neck and pushes forward and down while reaping the legs back and up, effectively applying power in the opposite directions to the upper and lower body.

Demon Drop (Basic) ⇐, ⇐, B

The practitioner uses an armlock to throw the opponent while he flips forward in mid-air to land on top of the opponent.

Shoulder Buster (Basic) ⇒, ⇐, B

As the opponent attempts a strike, the practitioner grasps the arm and executes an armlock to pin. A common technique in older styles of jujitsu, this move varies from style to style.

Tengu Drop (Basic) ⇐, ⇒, B

This dynamic move involves lowering the body to grasp the opponent's leg, lifting the opponent onto his shoulders, and then dropping him headfirst by toppling over sideways.

Darkside Hazuki (Basic) B (at opponent's side)

This move involves closing in on the opponent's side and throwing him down while turning 180 degrees. This technique is one of the major Hazuki throws and dates back to the early days of the style.

Back Twist Drop (Basic) B (behind opponent)

Similar to the backdrop move used in pro wrestling, it has been adapted to make it more difficult to defend against. The throw is executed with a twist toward the rear.

Wedge Strike (Basic) B (behind opponent)

This is another variation on the behind-the-back move. Ryo kicks his opponent in the base of the spine. It isn't powerful, but it sure has to hurt.

Swallow Dive (Learned) ⇒, Y, B

This move involves evading an opponent's attack while moving behind to attack from the blind spot.

Arm Break Fire (Technique Scroll) ⇒, ⇐, ⇐, B, X, X, A

This complex move damages the opponent's arms in multiple areas simultaneously. When one who has mastered the technique executes it, the opponent is left wondering what happened to him.

Tiger Storm (Technique Scroll) ⇐, ⇒, ⇒, B, B

The practitioner momentarily crouches to gather strength before aggressively lunging at the opponent. Experts can add a shoulder strike after the initial impact.

Shadow Blade (Learned) ⇒, Y + B, X

This move is an extension of the Shadow Step. After slipping into the opponent's blind spot, the practitioner strikes the back of the neck.

Cross Charge (Learned) ⇒, ⇒, Y + B

This is a combined defensive and offensive move where the practitioner evades an opponent's attack diagonally, then moves in for an elbow strike.

Grabs

Besides just throwing your opponent, you can also grab a person and then perform an attack. These are usually very powerful but hard to initiate. They work particularly well against weak opponents.

Collar Grab (Basic) Y + B

This move grabs your opponent by the collar and lifts the person off the ground. From this posture you can do any of the following four attacks.

Gut Punch (Basic) X, X (after Collar Grab)

Use this move to give your opponent two swift punches to the abdomen. It's an effective attack when fighting one person, but it can't cause collateral damage like some other attacks.

Scabbard's Revenge (Basic) A, X (after Collar Grab)

After picking his opponent up, Ryo hits the person once in the stomach and then swings around behind the enemy with a kick to the back. This is great in a group battle, as Ryo's movement keeps him from danger.

Rising Knee (Basic) A (after Collar Grab)

With this attack Ryo gives his opponent a hard knee to the body. This very powerful attack is great against a single opponent.

Overthrow (Basic) B (after Collar Grab)

Once you've grabbed your opponent you can simply finish the attack with an Overthrow. This is a good attack in all situations.

Guard Moves (Armlocks)

One way you can counter your opponent is to lock your enemy's arm behind his back after he punches. This is very easy way to counter weak opponents.

Armlock (Basic) B (counters a high punch)

You can counter an enemy's punch by grabbing his arm and twisting it behind his back. From that position you can perform any of the following attacks.

Feather Fold (Basic)

No Commands After Armlock

Once you grab your opponent with an Armlock, just wait. You'll see Ryo automatically knock the enemy down. This isn't an effective use of the Armlock.

Epigram (Basic) X (after Armlock)

Ryo knocks his opponent down with an elbow to the back of the head. This is swift and effective but not very powerful.

Kidney Kick (Basic) A (after Armlock)

In this variation, Ryo attacks his enemy's side with his knee. It's a bit more powerful than the other options.

Sickle Kick (Basic) A +Any Direction (after Armlock)

This can really only be used when fighting multiple opponents. Ryo can kick to any side while holding an opponent in an armlock and using him for balance. With this you can ward off other enemies while the one you're holding is indisposed.

Shenmue

Guard Moves (Move Counters)

One of the most overlooked fighting skills is counterattacking. Too often players charge into a battle relying solely on a strong offense to win the day. Don't neglect to use these moves to keep your opponents off-balance.

Quick Duck (Basic) (Y) (in time with an opponent's high attack)

By entering this command as your opponent attacks with a high attack, Ryo ducks out of the way. Using this against anything other than a high attack still deflects the attack. However if you successfully duck, you can follow up with one of the following counterattacks.

Heaven's Prize (Basic) (X) (after ducking)

Ryo quickly rises after his opponent's attack, striking him with open palms. Do this quickly, or it can be stopped easily.

Sweep Kick (Basic) (A) (after ducking)

Ducking under an attack, Ryo can sweep his opponent's legs. Ryo stays low to the ground for this attack, which makes it hard to stop.

Sun Flip (Basic) (X) + (A) (after ducking)

After dodging an attack, Ryo pulls off an amazing flip kick. This is cool looking and pretty powerful. It works very well when fighting more than one opponent.

Prize Strike (Basic) (X) (opponent behind you after ducking)

This is a great way to turn and attack. After ducking your opponent's attack, Ryo quickly turns around and hits his opponent with a hard chop.

Back Mower (Basic) (A) (opponent behind you after ducking)

A quick kick to the back stops your opponent's attack. This has a long reach and it pushes your opponent back, making it hard for him to attack you back.

Head Split (Basic) (X) + (A) (opponent behind you after ducking)

Quickly spinning around, Ryo smashes his opponent's head with a hard chop. It's a good counter, but no better than the easier counters.

Leg Scissors (Basic) (B) (opponent behind you after ducking)

This is by far the coolest looking counter when your back is to your opponent. Ryo entwines his legs with his opponent's and drops him to the floor.

Corner Drop (Basic) (B), (B)

Ryo counters his opponent by grabbing his arm and flipping him. It's a powerful counterattack, but hard to perform.

Leg Trip (Basic) (B), (B)

The Leg Trip counters an opponent's high kick. Ryo grabs the extended leg and drops his opponent to the ground while giving the leg a hard twist. Again, this is a powerful counter-attack, but hard to perform.

Combinations

There are many combos you can use against your opponents. Some are rather lengthy and hard to use, but the shorter combos are extremely effective in most situations. The biggest problem with long combos is that they give your opponent too many chances to counterattack. Short combos allow you to strike quickly and move, so you don't get caught with your guard down.

Torrent Combo (X,X,X,X,X,X,X,X)

This lengthy punch combo may be fun to watch, but it's very difficult to use effectively in combat. This is especially true in situations where you're facing more than one opponent, because it leaves your back unguarded and your movement is somewhat unpredictable.

Torrent Circle (X,X,X,A)

This combo is useful in many situations. It opens with three quick punches and ends with a jumping roundhouse kick. It's great when facing several weak opponents, because the sweeping kick at the end may eliminate more than one person.

Torrent Turning Attack (X,X,⇨,A,X)

Although this combo opens quickly with two punches and an elbow, the ending chop is very slow and therefore dangerous. It's a powerful combo against a single enemy, but in group situations the slow draw at the end leaves you wide open to counterattacks.

Torrent Open Troop (X,X,⇨,A,A)

This is similar to the Torrent Turning Attack, but it finishes with a rising knee attack. It's still slow at the end, but the lunging motion of the final attack is quick and deadly.

Torrent Scatter Attack (X,X,A)

Though this combo is brief, it's highly effective. It opens with two quick punches followed by a straight kick to the abdomen. There's a slight delay in the kick, but not long enough to get you into trouble. It also pushes your enemy back, which can give you enough time to launch an even better attack.

Torrent Blockade Troop (X,X,⇨,A,A,A)

You open this combo with two punches and then go into three sweeping kicks. This can be tricky to perform when surrounded by enemies, because your character often shifts focus right before opening a move. However the three sweeping kicks at the end are perfect against multiple opponents.

Torrent Whirlwind Troop (X,A,A,A)

You'll find this very similar to the Torrent Hip Combo, except that this opens with a punch. The punch doesn't add a lot to the combo's power, but it can open an opponent up to the three kicks thereafter.

Torrent Hip Combo (A,A,A)

A short three-kick combo such as this one can be powerful, but it's also easy to counter. The best time to use it is when you're fighting several opponents at once. Against weak opponents a single combo such as this can knock them all out in one swift attack.

Torrent Stormy Hip (A,X,A)

This is one of the best all-around combos. It's quick, it's deadly, and it works in any situation. Ryo's recovery is also quick enough that he can launch a second combo or quickly dodge if need be.

Torrent Kick Attack (A,X,X,X,X,X,X)

The Torrent Kick Attack is a variation on the Torrent Combo. It's shorter by one attack and it opens with a kick rather than a punch. Overall it's still way too long to be very useful.

Shenmue

MINIGAMES

The minigames you can play in Shenmue are there for more than just your enjoyment. Getting a high score on many of these games will net you some collectibles. Each of the minigames is listed below with information to assist you in successfully completing them.

Most of these games cost money to play, and money is one thing you don't have an abundance of in Shenmue. However, if you're lucky enough to win home versions of some of these games, you can practice at home, then cash in on the goodies when you play for real at the arcade.

HANG ON

Stage One

If you're in the mood for racing, head down to the You Arcade and try your hand at Hang-On. It costs 100 Yen to play and you only get one try.

Your goal is to make it through five intense stages to the end of the race, but the clock is working against you. As the game begins, you are allotted an amount of time to make it to the next stage. If you fail to get there before time runs out, the game is over. If you succeed, you'll get some bonus time added to whatever amount of time you had left over from the previous stage. This is the most important factor in making it to the end of the game. You need to have plenty of time left over at the end of every stage, because as the stages get harder you'll be given less bonus time to make it to the end.

If you score ten million points, you'll receive a miniature Hang-On collectible from the arcade manager. Beat the game and you'll get a certificate showing just how amazing you truly are. Here are some tips to help you out.

Problem Spot #1

The first couple of turns can mess players up pretty bad. Neither one is horrible, but adjusting to the fact you're playing a racing game can be tricky at first. Keep your foot on the gas and watch your opponents. They'll always take the outside of the first curve and inside of the second, so passing shouldn't be a problem.

Problem Spot #2

The end of the track presents several short curves. You can go through them at full speed, but you'll have to be careful of your opponents and act quickly or you'll go right off the road. If your reflexes are really good you should be able to buzz past your opponents, but if you're unsure, you should hold back and wait until you can get a clear shot.

Stage Two

Problem Spot #1

Be careful going into the third turn. There are often a lot of bikers in this area. Try to stick to the inside and keep the throttle down, but if you need to back off for moment, you shouldn't hesitate. Slowing down is preferable to wrecking.

Problem Spot #2

The fourth turn can also be tricky. Look for your opponents to take the outside of the turn, so if you can stick to the inside you'll be in the clear.

Problem Spot #3

There are relatively few other bikes on this turn. As you approach the end of the course you'll hit a quick "S" curve. You can sneak through it, but watch out for the last turn. The road ahead is a sharp curve to the left. If you don't hit it right you'll go right off the track.

Stage Three

Problem Spot #1

The third corner is super sharp. It isn't impossible to avoid skidding off the side of the track. If you hit the turn right you can sail through it since it's short.

Problem Spot #2

The tenth corner is a sharp "S" curve. You can make it through without letting off of the gas, but it's not easy. Watch for enemies on the outside of the curve.

Problem Spot #3

The final curves are sharp—slow down a bit as you enter the second part and then accelerate out of it. You should be in good shape to reach the fourth stage.

Stage Four

Problem Spot #1

The third turn is tough. Slow down when you see a sign on the left and lean hard to that direction. Try not to lose too much speed as you come out of it.

Problem Spot #2

This is sharp and long, so you'll have to be ready for it. There's no way to avoid slowing down. Be very careful. If you've made it this far you certainly don't want to lose it now.

Problem Spot #3

Look for a left curve sign as you approach this turn. That's your best warning. This is really sharp, so be ready. You may need to tap the brake.

Shenmue
Frick

Stage Five

Problem Spot #1

Your opponents will be on the inside of this turn, so you're forced to the outside. Be careful and slow down.

Problem Spot #2

This is your last big obstacle before the end. The corner approaches quickly—watch for signs indicating the turn is coming and reduce your speed before you reach it.

SPACE HARRIER

If you like shooters, Space Harrier is the game for you. You'll find it at the You Arcade in Dobuita. It only costs 100 Yen to play and you get three chances. Plus, you can earn extra chances by scoring points. There are eighteen stages to blast your way through, each with a boss at the end.

Space Harrier is an extremely fast-paced game. The scenery flies by as the hero runs and flies into danger. His only weapon is a powerful blaster capable of shooting down just about anything that's thrown his way. You need super fast reflexes to make it through this beast of a game.

It isn't necessary to blast everything you see. Sure you'll want to try and eliminate any enemies that appear on screen, but it isn't a huge deal if you miss. What's more important is your ability to dodge enemy bullets and things like trees and columns. If you ram an object you'll lose a chance. Some of these objects can be destroyed, but many of them cannot. So focus less on what you are destroying and work harder on just getting through the stages alive.

At the end of every stage you'll find a boss. Bosses have one or two weak points on their bodies. Most of the time you'll have to hit a boss in the head. Each time you hit a boss in the right spot, it will change color. There are some exceptions to this rule. For instance, the second boss simply needs to be hit once in the center and it's destroyed. Sounds easy, but it's really not.

You'll also find Bonus Stages periodically throughout the game. During these stages you must guide a flying creature so that you destroy as much of the scenery as possible. This is your chance to earn some major bonus points.

If you do well and score over ten million points, you'll win a miniature Space Harrier collectible. Beat the game and you'll get a certificate that you can show off to all of your friends.

QTE TITLE

Do you enjoy the QTE Battles? Are you having trouble with them? Either way, this game and Excite QTE2 are the games for you. Both of these games replicate Shenmue's QTE Battle System and put your reflexes to the test. You'll find this game, QTE Title, at the You Arcade. It costs 100 Yen a game and you get three chances.

QTE Title plays like a boxing game. Three paddles corresponding to three buttons on your controller: ⓧ, Ⓐ, and Ⓑ. Whenever a paddle(s) moves, you must immediately hit the corresponding button(s) on your controller. You must be quick, or you'll lose a chance. The paddles often move in combinations. When this happens you must hit the same buttons in the order that the paddles move. Sometimes two of the paddles even move at the same time, so be ready to hit difficult button combinations such as ⓧ and Ⓑ together.

If you're good enough, you can win a mini QTE Title collectible item from the arcade manager. All you need is a score of 300,000 points or more. It isn't easy, but we'll show you what you need to do to win.

Using the Chart

The chart below will help you work your way to an amazing score. Reading down, solitary buttons are single punches. Those marked in red must be hit in sequential order. Any buttons appearing inside of a box must be hit at the same time.

DARTS 7

The Darts 7 minigame can be played at the You Arcade or the Harbor Lounge. It costs 100 Yen a game and you get five darts. If you're good enough, you can win extra games by getting a score of 120 with your first five darts, and 240 with your second set of darts. The game is over after your third set no matter how much you score.

If you score 300 or more points, the arcade manager at You Arcade will give you the Mini Darts collectible as a prize. This isn't as easy as it sounds, but with practice you should be able to score 500 points or more with every game.

Playing the Game

Darts is all about timing. As Ryo prepares to throw, his hand appears in the foreground. The hand bobs up and down while moving from side to side. Your goal is to press A at the right time so that the dart hits one of four high scoring areas on the board. Speed also counts in this game, because there is a time bonus. You have 10 seconds to throw the dart if you want bonus points, but you can wait as long as you like if you're trying to get a bulls-eye or better.

The big trick is in Ryo's hand movement. Throw your dart while Ryo's hand is steady or moving upward. This causes the dart to travel in a fairly straight path. Throwing a dart while the hand is moving downward causes the dart to drop as it travels through the air, so hitting a specific spot on the board is difficult. Also make sure his hand is directly in front of the 20-point row or the bulls-eye.

Four spots on the board earn you the most points. Obviously the two center rings are worth a lot. The green ring is worth 25 points and the red spot in the center (the bulls-eye) is worth 50 points. Both of these are great for building a high score, but there are two other outstanding targets.

Notice the 20-point row. At the very top is a red strip, which is part of a band that circles the entire target area. Hits in this area are worth twice the normal point value, so hitting this target in the 20-point row is worth 40 points. There's also a red and green ring in the middle of the board. The targets are worth three times the normal point value. If you can make this tough shot in the 20-point row you'll earn an amazing 60 points, which is even better than a bulls-eye. Don't kid yourself, these are very tough shots and missing can be disastrous to your score. If you miss the 40-point shot you may hit the black edge of the board, which is worth nothing. If you drift too far to either side you can end up with as little as one point.

NEO DARTS

Once you begin visiting Yokosuka Harbor, you can begin playing Neo Darts. You'll find a Neo Darts machine at the Harbor Lounge next to the Tomato Convenience Store.

Neo Darts is a bit different from the Darts 7 game. The board is laid out entirely differently and Ryo's hand movement has changed. Now you can score anywhere between 10 and 100 points with each dart, and you get five darts for 100 Yen. The maximum score you can possibly get is 500 points, as there aren't any double or triple value shots in this game and there's no bonus for throwing a dart quickly. There also isn't any kind of prize for a high score, so this is purely for your enjoyment.

Playing the Game

As mentioned before, Ryo's hand movement is very different in this game. It still moves side to side, but not to the degree it does in Darts 7. Also his hand isn't steady, it dips up and down, bending at the wrist rather than at the shoulder. So adjust your strategy accordingly.

Throw it now!

Obviously you want to hit the center target, worth 100 points. Doing so isn't all that difficult if you can get a feel for the timing. Wait for the hand to bounce off of the right side. As it moves left, watch the motion in Ryo's wrist. You want the hand to dip just a bit before throwing the dart. The hand movement is pretty much always the same, so once you find the right timing it isn't difficult to hit the center target five times in a row.

BILLIARDS

Once you've completed the billiards challenge at the MJQ Jazz Bar, you can return there on later days and attempt to sink various shots around the table. After the initial meeting with the two guys playing pool there, you won't have to place a wager, so you can play as much as you like without risk.

You can try to sink four shots. Once you've gotten them all, you cycle back through the shots from the beginning. You'll impress your pool buddies if you make the shots, but it won't earn you any extra information.

Shot 1

For this shot, aim to the right of the nine ball. Notice the bumps around the edge of the cue ball where the polygons meet. We'll use these to aim. Line up the first bump to the left of the cue ball's center with the edge of the nine ball. Then shift your aim a bit more to the right. The bump you were lining up with the edge of the nine ball should now be clearly visible and several centimeters away from the nine. This should sink the ball in the corner pocket.

Shot 2

This time we'll use the first bump on the cue ball's left side. Aim to the right of the nine so that the bump on the cue ball is just a little to the right of the edge of the nine. You should be able to easily sink the ball in the corner.

Shot 3

On this shot, aim for the corner closest to Ryo's body. Split the top bump on the cue ball on the right side of the nine again. Then shift your aim over to the right just a bit more. The ball should bank hard off the rail and into the corner pocket.

Shot 4

Aim so that the edge of the nine ball is evenly between the center bump and the first bump to the left. This should push the ball right into the corner.

Note

There are a lot of different ways to make these shots. Fool around a bit and try aiming for different pockets. You might just surprise yourself with an incredible shot.

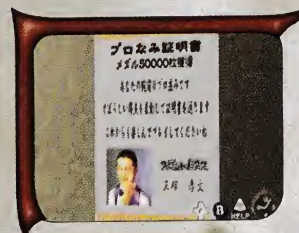

SLOTS

Those of you with a lust for the bright lights of Vegas may want to spend some time gambling in the Slot House. This local dive can be found on the back streets of Dobuita. Don't get your hopes up though—gambling for money is strictly prohibited, so you gamble for tokens. These tokens can only be used in slot machines, so you aren't increasing your cash flow when you hit the big jackpot.

The four types of slot machines are: 1 Bet, 5 Bet, 10 Bet, and 20 Bet. This refers to the number of tokens it costs to bet the minimum on the machine. You can win a lot more on a higher bet machine, but you may lose it all just as quickly.

You can win prizes other than tokens while playing the slots. If you slot three sevens of the same color, you win a collectible item. Depending on which machine you're using, you can win the following prizes:

You can also win prizes by collecting a certain number of tokens:

Matsuyama Certificate	10,000 tokens
Mitsuka Certificate	50,000 tokens

1 Bet	Cherries
5 Bet	Mini Billiards
10 Bet	Mini Slot Machine
20 Bet	Mini Jukebox

To win all of these prizes, you're either going to need a ton of money or a little help from the local fortuneteller. Go to Lapis and have the fortuneteller give you your lucky number by selecting the "Gamble" option. The number she gives you is the number of the slot machine you should use that day. It's bound to pay out eventually. Having your fortune told costs 300 Yen, but it's worth it if you plan to do a lot of gambling.

EXCITE QTE2

You'll find the Excite QTE2 machine inside the You Arcade in Dobuita. It costs 100 Yen a game and you get three chances. Your goal is to quickly hit the button on your controller corresponding to the one shown on screen. The faster you hit the button, the more points you earn. As the game progresses, the button combinations become lengthier and you have less time to react.

The game uses (A), (B), (X), (Y), and the directional pad. So you'll have to use both hands to successfully complete this game. If you score more than 300,000 points, the manager of the You Arcade will give you a Mini Excite QTE2 collectible as a prize.

Using the Chart

The following chart gives you a big advantage in trying to achieve a high score. The button commands you'll see on screen are listed below in sequential order. Sometimes the game throws combinations at you where you have to quickly press two or more buttons in a row. These buttons are bracketed together. If you mess up and miss one, the game moves on to the next button or button combination in line. If you miss a combination, the game picks up with the next button even if it was part of that combination, so be prepared. Anticipation is key to high scores. Try to guess when the next button will appear on screen and hit the button or button combination immediately to maximize your score.

FORKLIFT RACE

One of the best parts about working at the harbor is the daily forklift race. This pits you against four other forklift drivers in a three-lap race around the harbor. You have a definite speed advantage over most of your opponents, but they've been driving longer and they don't make mistakes. In a bumper-to-bumper battle they also have an advantage, because they almost always push you out of the way. You don't get much time to practice because your job only lasts for five days, but you should still be able to win the race with a little patience and practice.

You can win five prizes. Each is a miniature forklift with a number on the side corresponding to your finishing position. Because you only have five tries, you must finish in a different place every day if you want to collect them all. Generally it's a good idea to go for first place right away because it's the hardest to win.

The Course

The makeshift track goes around the perimeter of the harbor. There are plenty of straightaways for passing, but also some tricky corners. Most of the track is pretty narrow, which makes it tough going into some of the corners. Just do your best not to bump the walls. Bumping a wall almost always brings your forklift to a complete stop. Be ready to quickly back up and straighten yourself out if you get stuck.

Cornering can be tricky. Begin turning a little early to easily breeze through the tighter turns. If you need to, you can let off the gas momentarily to sharpen your turn, but try to avoid doing so whenever possible. A great way to pass opponents is to take the inside route in a curve. This allows you to quickly speed past your opponents. Be careful where you try this. Really tight turns, such as behind the Harbor Cafeteria, aren't a good place to pass because there isn't enough room for two forklifts.

Problem Spot #1

The area behind the Harbor Lounge and Harbor Cafeteria is a nasty spot. You have three quick turns and there are a lot of obstacles around for you to bump into. Turn early into each of the turns and you should be able to slip through easily. This spot takes a lot of practice, but if you practice it while you're working it shouldn't take you long to get the timing down.

Problem Spot #2

This turn isn't hard to handle if you're ready for it. If you go through it too wide, you'll end up hitting the crates stacked along the wall. You can make things easier if you cut between the crates on the left and the pole. It straightens the curve out a bit and makes it extremely easy to pass an opponent.

Shenmue

WORKING AT THE HARBOR

Eventually Ryo has to take a job as a forklift driver at New Yokosuka Harbor. For five days he'll have to haul crates around the harbor. The number of crates he moves will determine how much he's paid at the end of the day. Here's some information to help you make the most of it.

Quick Tips

Don't worry too much about how you place crates. You don't want to place them so poorly that you can't stack other crates around them, but they don't have to be perfectly placed in the grid on the floor. Just try to place crates as quickly and as neatly as possible without nitpicking too much.

When you pick up a crate, keep in mind whether the next crate you'll be picking up is on the ground or stacked on another crate. That way you can adjust the height of your forks before you get back to the crates. Doing so will save you a little bit of time.

Drive in the first-person perspective. Otherwise the crates you carry will block your view, increasing the odds that you'll bump into something small like a cat or a dog and lose precious moments.

First Full Day

Pickup: Near Old Warehouse
District Entrance

Destination: Warehouse #18

Quota: 10 Crates

This is simple. The pickup and drop-off points are very close by and traffic is minimal. There's only one route to follow, so don't even have to decide which way to get there. You should be able to take all the crates to the warehouse without any problems.

Second Full Day

Now you have two options on how to get to and from the crates to the warehouse. Going around behind the Harbor Lounge is shorter and can be faster, but there's a draw back. The waterfront is tighter and a lot of people walk around it, so even though it could potentially be faster, you might get stuck. You'll have to decide for yourself which way you like best.

Pickup: Outside Harbor
Cafeteria

Destination: Warehouse #3

Quota: 8 Crates

Third Full Day

Pickup: In front of
Warehouse #11

Destination: Warehouse #18

Quota: 8 Crates

This is basically just the opposite of the previous day. Think hard about using the waterfront path to and from your destination. If you're getting good at that part of the track in the morning races it's worth the risk. Just keep an eye on traffic around the area. If you see a bunch of people heading that way as you pass by, go the other route to give them time to clear out.

Fourth Full Day

This is a seriously long haul. You definitely want to use the waterfront this time. It'll take about thirty minutes round trip, but it's better than the alternative.

Pickup: In front of
Warehouse #15

Destination: Warehouse #18

Quota: 8 Crates

Fifth Full Day

Pickup #1:	Near Old Warehouse District
Drop-Off #1:	Warehouse #8
Pickup #2:	Warehouse #8
Drop-Off #2:	Warehouse #18
Quota:	10 Crates

Now things get tricky. You have to take crates from one area to another and then pickup crates in that area and bring them back near your starting area. The trick here is just to not get confused. Don't forget to pick up a crate from both areas and don't forget where they go.

BIKE RACE

Hopefully you've been playing a lot of Hang-On in your free time. Your experiences with that game will help a lot with this race to the harbor. The bike in this race handles about the same as the one in the game. Here's a map of the course to help you out. Just take it easy in the turns and you shouldn't have any trouble getting to your goal on time.

ITEMS

Almost 600 items can be found, purchased, or won in Shenmue. We have listed all of these items below, first by type, and then by location. Many are very difficult to get, and though you may not find or win all of them, it's fun to try. Refer back to this section whenever you acquire a new item to learn its purpose.

FOUND ITEMS

Be sure to explore every area. You never know when you might stumble across an interesting trinket or something important that may allow you access to exciting new areas. What follows are all the items that you can find or that are given to you during your adventure.

Item: Father's Letter
Location: Hazuki Garden

Ine gives you this letter. It is in Chinese, so ask Xia to read it for you. You can find her in the Russiya China Shop.

Item: Father's Picture
Location: Hazuki Basement

Find this picture of Ryo's father and a friend inside a red box in the basement. If you don't find it on your own, Fukuhara brings it to you.

When you start your part-time job at the harbor, you are given a map that shows your quotas for the current day and the possible routes to your destination(s).

Item: Race Course Map

Each morning, before starting work, all of the forklift drivers participate in a morning warm-up race. The course is always the same, so study this map.

Item: Maps 1 and 2

Item: Flashlight
Location: Hazuki House
Entryway/Tomato Convenience Stores

Look for the Flashlight in the cabinet below the telephone. You can also buy one at the Tomato Convenience Store in Dobuita for 500 Yen. The Flashlight illuminates dark areas such as the basement under the Hazuki Family's Dojo.

Use the Sword Guard in the Hazuki Family's Dojo to open the secret door that leads to the basement. You can't pick up the Sword Guard from the antique shop until you're told to do so.

Item: White Leaf
Location: Hazuki Basement

Find the White Leaf stuck in a book in the Hazuki's basement.

Item: Phoenix Mirror
Location: Hazuki Basement

Iwao hid the Phoenix Mirror inside a secret compartment in the Hazuki's basement. Find the secret compartment and break it open with an axe.

OTHER ITEMS

Though some items can be found around the Hazuki Family's Dojo, many of these items may need to be purchased. Ryo's allowance isn't large, so don't squander your money. Try to find these items around the house before you buy them from the store.

Item: Mini Radio Cassette Player
Location: Ryo's Desk Drawer (Hazuki House)/Tomato Convenience Stores

Find the Mini Radio Cassette Player in Ryo's desk and use it to play the Cassettes Ryo finds or purchases at the Tomato Convenience Stores.

Screw the Light Bulb into the basement ceiling light to illuminate the room without having to use the Flashlight or a Candle. Buy Light Bulbs at the Tomato Convenience Stores for 90 Yen.

Item: Candle

Candles can also illuminate the Hazuki's basement. Use Matches to light Candles and place them in the candleholders around the room. If you need more Candles, buy them at the Tomato Convenience Stores for 150 Yen.

Item: Matches
Location: Altar Room (Hazuki House)/Tomato Convenience Stores

Find a box of Matches near the family altar or in the basement at the Hazuki House, or buy them at a Tomato Convenience Store for 50 Yen.

Item: C Size Batteries
Location: Hazuki House/Tomato Convenience Stores

Find these inside the Hazuki's house or purchase them at a Tomato Convenience Store for 150 Yen. Use them to recharge a dead Flashlight.

Unfortunately you can't find these lying around the Hazuki's home. They power your Cassette Player, so if it dies on you, purchase some of these batteries at a Tomato Convenience Store for 150 Yen.

Item: Winning Can
Location: Vending Machines

You have a one-in-four chance of getting a Winning Can when you purchase a soft drink from a vending machine. If you get one, you can either give it to a clerk at a Tomato Convenience Store for a chance at the Shenmue Lottery, or save it to swap for character data from the Passport Disc's Shenmue Collection.

Item: Watch
Location: Ryo's Wrist

Ryo has his watch at the beginning of the game. Use it to check the time while waiting for a shop to open or to get to an appointment on time.

PRIZES

There are several ways to acquire prizes in Shenmue. Many can be purchased from a Gacha Gacha machine, while others can be obtained only after winning certain mini-games. All prizes are listed below. Some of these can be very tough or expensive to get, but try to collect them all.

Abe Store

The Virtua Fighter and Waku Waku (Excited Sega World (Green)) series can be collected from the Gacha Gacha machine at the Abe Store. The Waku Waku collection has fewer variations and is therefore easier to collect.

Beautifully detailed, these collectibles include all of your favorites from Sega's Virtua Fighter game.

Waku Waku Sonic the Hedgehog Figures (Machine#3)

The extremely popular characters from Sega's Sonic the Hedgehog game can also be collected from the Gacha Gacha machines.

You Arcade (Front)

Two series can be found in the Gacha Gacha machines in front of the You Arcade. Some of these items are very rare. The series found in this machine are the Virtua Fighter Kids and the Sega World (Red) series.

SHENMUE LOTTERY

Purchasing Shenmue products and Cassettes from a store affords you a chance to win very rare items in the Shenmue Lottery. Every location offering a lottery has different items that can be won. The odds of winning are extremely low for the top prizes and could become a costly endeavor. The odds for winning are as follows:

Top Prize	1/400	Second Prize	1/50	Fourth Prize	1/8
First Prize	1/100	Third Prize	1/10	Fifth Prize	1/5

Abe Store

To collect the complete set of Gacha prizes, you have to win the top prize at Abe Store. Below is a listing of the prizes you may win.

From Virtua Fighter, this gold Dural figure is certainly worth the risk, though the odds are definitely against you.

First Prize: Dural Silver

Your odds of winning the Dural Silver figure are four times better than winning the gold version.

Second Prize: Director (Yukawa)

A character from the Sega series on TVCM, the director wears a Happi Coat.

Second Prize: Sega Saturn Software

You could win either Space Harrier or Hang On to play on Ryo's Sega Saturn in the Hazuki's living room. If you win either prize, you can play whenever you want. Practice these games at home, perfecting your skills, and then play these games at the You Arcade to win prizes.

MINIGAME PRIZES

There are many minigames you can play in Shenmue, though most of them require money. Each of the prizes you can win is listed below. Refer to the Minigames section of this guide for winning strategies on all of these games.

Arcade Games

You play five different arcade games in the You Arcade. There are several ways to win prizes at each of these machines. These games cost money, and with a limited budget, you need to perfect your skills quickly, or you might miss out on grabbing one of those great collectibles.

Win the Game with Only One Coin

If you can win either Space Harrier or Hang On with only one coin, you win a prize. These games are extremely difficult to beat with only one coin, and they require a lot of practice. If you win the Sega Saturn version of the games through the lottery, you can practice at home, then take your winning strategies to the arcade.

Space Harrier Certificate

Win Space Harrier with only one coin to receive a certificate with "Pro-Level" written on it and Mr. Nito's smiling face.

Hang On Certificate

This certificate is similar to the Space Harrier certificate. It has "Pro-Level" written on it and, again, a smiling picture of Mr. Nito.

High Score

Receive miniature versions of these games if you get the high score, which is a little easier than beating a game with one coin.

Prize: Mini Darts Board

Score more than 300 points to win this collectible. It looks just like the dartboard you played to win it.

Prize: Mini Hang On

Score more than 10 million points to net this Mini Hang On collectible.

Prize: Mini Excite QTE

Score more than 300,000 points in this tough game to win this Mini Excite QTE collectible. Be sure to rotate the item and check out the back.

Prize: Mini QTE Title

A little easier to achieve, this prize takes more than 300,000 points to win.

Prize: Space Harrier

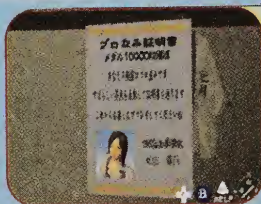

You need more than 10 million points to get this super-tough-to-get, but super-cool-to-own, collectible.

Slot Machines

There are three types of slot machines in the Slot House, and two ways to win prizes. You can either rack up a certain number of coins to win a certificate, or slot three sevens of the same color to win a collectible item. Mr. Matsuyama keeps your coins each time you leave the Slot House.

Winning Coins

If you're on a winning streak and can save up a lot of coins, you can win either of these prizes in the slot machines. You can improve your chances by getting your lucky number from the Lapis Fortune Teller.

Matsuyama Certificate

Win more than 10,000 coins to receive the Matsuyama Certificate. This certificate shows Ms. Matsuyama's face in the corner.

Mitsuka Certificate

Though it's almost inconceivable, it is possible to win more than 50,000 coins to receive the Mitsuka Certificate. On this prize, you see Mr. Mitsuka's face in the corner. Be sure to visit the fortune teller to find out your lucky number if you're serious about getting this prize.

Three Sevens

By slotting three sevens, all of the same color, you can win these cool collectibles. All of these prizes are rare and valuable and can be traded in the "Everyone's Space" section of the Shenmue Passport Disc. This is the only way you can get an animal collectible. Learn more about the Shenmue Passport Disc later in this guide.

Cherries

If you get three sevens, either red or green, on a one-coin machine, you win this fruity collectible.

Mini Billiards

Bet on a five-coin machine and win to get the Mini Billiards collectible.

Shenmue

Prize: Mini Slot Machine

Bet on a 10-coin machine and win to get the Mini Slot Machine.

Prize: Mini Jukebox

Forklift Race

When you take a part-time job at the port, your job is to drive the forklift. Each morning, before starting work, the crew engages in a forklift race. There are five places for each race. Because your part-time job only lasts for five days, you need to hone your forklift driving skills quickly to collect them all. All of the prizes look exactly the same except for the number painted on them. All are very cool with superb detail.

EYE CANDY AND MORE

Interesting characters, a deep story line, and battles galore—Shenmue has it all. Playing as Ryo Hazuki, you're on a quest to avenge your father's murder, and while your days are filled with seeking out information and unraveling clues, be sure to check out some of the small details that help make Shenmue the fabulous RPG it is.

Everyone has a story to tell in Shenmue, and that includes the dogs, cats, and even the birds. While walking along the New Yokosuka Harbor, take note of the pigeons. The animations are so real, that whenever anyone gets near the birds, they'll walk, run, or fly away.

The weather in Shenmue is constantly changing thanks to Magic Weather—If the weather is sunny the first time you play, it may be raining, or even snowing when you play it again. You can choose the Actual Weather option if you want the actual weather as it was in 1986. That's how real Shenmue can get!

If the weather is sunny, check out the shadow your character casts on the sidewalks and buildings. If it's raining, you can stand under a building's awning and watch the rain fall in front of you.

So many little details are woven into this game that it's impossible to list them all here. You may not even notice many of these details, but they add to the beautiful symmetry of the Shenmue environment.

THE MOVES

Hand Motions

Grab it, twist it, dial the phone. To reproduce even the smallest movements the Shenmue team used "motion capture technology." You can see the difference on the screen. Everything looks realistic, even down to the faithful reproduction of the blood vessels in the back of the character's hands.

Motion Characters

To make the characters' movements look as realistic as possible, professional actors were filmed acting out each scene. Of course, even greater efforts were taken with the fighting scenes; martial artists were enlisted to ensure realistic actions.

THE MAPS

Creating the Maps

The maps in Shenmue are based on actual maps. The Shenmue team studied real maps to understand more of how a city is laid out, so the map of the city we created closely resembles that of a real city. Not only that, but the whole makeup of the city is incredibly real; look at the mixture of large and small, tall and short buildings, the distances between them, and the types of architecture used.

THE SOUNDS

After Recordings

For the U.S. version, the voice actors are different from the Japanese version in which the motion capture actors synched their voices to the film to create the character dialogue.

YU SUZUKI—CREATOR OF SHENMUE

In creating this game I had few restrictions placed upon me and was able to proceed at my leisure. I hoped that we could develop a game that would be just as trouble free. That was my goal as I set out to create Shenmue. In the act of investigating, something creates something new, and this is something that even a child of ten can do. It goes beyond generations, crossing country borders, and is a theme that people all over the world can sympathize with. Forcing strong emotions on the players makes them experience the game as if they were there and it creates a story that people talk about. This game can be enjoyed at any age. The system is simple to use and fun to play. Through this new world you can experience a life that is totally different (than your own). You'll want to see what happens next. The stages are realistic and the story is so easy that even a child will understand it but the depths of the story will draw in adults. The characters are appealing, the story is moving, and everything is interwoven into a harmonious whole. My goal was to hand the whole world to the player. It is super-realism and this is exactly what I wanted to create. "FREE" is a totally new type of game.

Talk 1: Hunting for a Ride

Location: Yokosuka Bar/Bob's Pizzeria/Knocking Motorcycle Shop (Dobuita)

Trigger: Talk to the shop owners

Timing: 00:10-3:00

Akemi Sato

Mario Grianni

Goro Ono

Ryo only has four hours to get to the harbor and no way to get there. Head into Dobuita and visit Bar Yokosuka. Talk to Akemi and she suggests you find a motorcycle. Mario at Bob's Pizzeria suggests you talk to Ono at Knocking. Ono points you toward Naoyuki Ito.

Notes

- To get to the harbor quickly...Bus X won't make it!
- I'll make it if I go by motorcycle!

Notes Cont.

- Ask Uno-san at Motorcycle Shop about borrowing.
- Try to borrow Naoyuki Ito's (Sakuragaoka) motorcycle.

Scene 1: Race to the Harbor

Location: Ito Residence
(Sakuragaoka)

Trigger: Examine the nameplate or walk toward the entrance

Timing: 0:10-3:00

Naoyuki Ito

Now that you have a motorcycle, you have exactly two minutes (real time) to get to the harbor. This is fairly easy. Just let off the gas a bit in the curves so you don't hit the walls and you'll get there in no time. If you fail, you get to try again.

Scene 2: MAD ANGELS HQ

Location: Warehouse #17
(New Yokosuka Harbor)

Trigger: Arrive at harbor within two minutes

Timing: —

Arriving at the harbor, Ryo is jumped by eight MAD ANGELS. These guys are fairly easy to defeat. After that, you face six more MAD ANGELS inside their lair. Most of these creeps are weak, but the guy in the green vest is pretty tough. Watch out for him and defeat the other five guys first to make the battle easier on yourself.

Notes

- Nozomi is fine.
- Had to promise Jerry I'd beat up Chen Gui Zhang.
- Tomorrow at 10 p.m. go to Warehouse #9.

Scene 3: Meditation

Location: Hazuki Family's Dojo

Trigger: Automatically occurs after Scene 2

Timing: 7:30

Ryo prepares for the impending battle by meditating in the Dojo. He has visions of his father brandishing a sword.

Scene 4: Free Lunch!

Location: Tom's Hot Dogs
(New Yokosuka Harbor)

Trigger: Automatically occurs after Scene 3

Timing: —

Arriving at New Yokosuka Harbor, Ryo is stopped by Tom. He asks Ryo to return to his stand for lunch later that day.

Notes

- Promised to have lunch with Tom.

Scene 5: Troublemaker

Location: Alpha Trading Office
(New Yokosuka Harbor)

Trigger: Automatically occurs
after Scene 4

Timing: 10:45

What with the meditating and talking to Tom, Ryo is running pretty late for work. Stopping past the Alpha Trading Office might not have been the best idea.

Notes

- I got fired from my job...
- I should check with everybody.

Note

Rush back to Dobuita and have your fortune told at Lapis to get the "Clue: Friends close to you are leaving." note added to your notebook.

Scene 6: Learn from Tom

Location: Tom's Hot Dogs (New Yokosuka Harbor)

Trigger: Go to Tom's Hot Dogs between 11:00
and 12:30

Timing: 11:00-12:30

After being let go, walk around and talk to anyone and everyone. This is your last hour and a half of free time, so use it wisely. When you're ready to move on, you can head over to talk to Tom. If you don't go there by 12:30, you're automatically taken there.

Notes

- Tom went home to the United States.

FIGHTING TECHNIQUE

TORNADO KICK

Scene 7: Confronting Gui Zhang

Location: Near Alpha Trading Office (New Yokosuka Harbor)

Trigger: Automatically occurs
after Scene 6

Timing: 12:00

Ryo must fight Gui Zhang. Do your best to make the fight look good. Also be ready for the QTE afterward.

QTE COMMANDS

Scene 8: MAD ANGELS Onslaught

Location: Near Warehouse #2
(New Yokosuka Harbor)

Trigger: Automatically occurs
after successfully completing Scene 7

Timing: —

Terry rushes off and leaves Ryo and Gui Zhang to fight their way through 70 MAD ANGELS. There are three bosses to defeat along the way, so be careful. See the end of this walkthrough for some strategy tips.

Scene 9: Confronting Terry

Location: Near Warehouse #17
(New Yokosuka Harbor)

Trigger: Automatically occurs
after successfully completing Scene 8

Timing: —

Terry is waiting for Ryo and Gui Zhang once they make it to the end of his gauntlet. Gui Zhang insists on taking on Terry alone, but Ryo needs to lend a hand through a QTE.

Notes

- I defeated Terry but Lan Di's gone to Hong Kong...

Scene 10: A Sad Farewell

Location: Hazuki's Home

Trigger: Automatically occurs
on day following
Scene 9

Timing: 8:30

It's time for Ryo to say goodbye to his home and his good friends. With any luck, he'll be back soon, but for now the memory of his hometown will have to comfort him on his journey.

Scene 11: Learn from Master Chen

Location: New Yokosuka Harbor

Trigger: Automatically occurs
after Scene 10

Timing: —

Before Ryo leaves, Master Chen teaches him a valuable but challenging technique called the Swallow Flip. Perform the move properly to master it.

Scene 12: Revenge!!!

Location: New Yokosuka Harbor

Trigger: Automatically occurs
after Scene 11

Timing: —

Just when it looks like things have quieted down, Ryo gets an unexpected visitor. This is a very tough battle. Try to keep your distance from Chai to regain Ryo's stamina as you battle. Also be sure to dodge a lot. This sets up a lot of easy throws. Attacks with a long range work particularly well, but not all of the time. If you fail, you get to battle Chai again.

Scene 13: Never Say Die

Location: New Yokosuka Harbor

Trigger: Automatically occurs
after Scene 12

Timing: —

Chai is down, but not out. Don't let your guard down.

Scene 14: Nozomi's Gift

Location: New Yokosuka Harbor

Trigger: Automatically occurs
after Scene 13

Timing: —

Ryo heads off to find Lan Di. In doing so he thinks back to a moment with Nozomi.

Notes

- Nozomi gave me an amulet.
- Take care, Nozomi and everyone...
- Master Chen gave me a letter of introduction for Jao Li, Shao-san, a martial arts master who lives in Hong Kong.

Note

Don't shut your game off when the credits begin rolling, or you'll miss your last chance to save your game. You can do things with the Cleared File you get once you've beaten the game.

70 PERSON FREE BATTLE

The 70 Person Battle occurs in Scene 8 of the final scenario. It pits Ryo and Gui Zhang against 70 of the MAD ANGELS gang members. Most of them are easy prey for your most basic attacks, but you'll periodically encounter some of the MAD ANGELS' elite fighters. These are the guys who've climbed their way up through the ranks by being the meanest and the toughest. You'll know when they arrive, because they each make a grand entrance.

General Strategy

Pushing your way past most of the gang members is a fairly simple task. Basic one-hit attacks usually knock them out right away, so moves such as Elbow Assault and Hold Against Leg are particularly useful. Throws are also very effective, as ordinary gang members never get back up from them and you can't be hit while throwing an opponent. Also keep in mind that as time passes, Ryo's health is slowly restored. You want Ryo to have full health at the beginning of these fights, because the bosses can quickly beat him into submission with their strong attacks. If Ryo gets low on health, spend some time dodging attacks to allow him to recover.

Some enemies can attack with more than their bodies by picking up and tossing barrels and crates. Luckily, these are pretty rare, but keep your eyes open for anyone standing off to the side holding one of these weapons. Enemies can't throw them very far and they can hurt their own people with them. What's really cool is that, unlike the crates, the barrel doesn't break when thrown. You can then use it against your enemies by kicking it at them. It won't roll far, but any normal enemy that it hits will be knocked out.

When fighting the horde of regular gang members, you occasionally encounter those who are bit more skilled at defending than the others. These guys block just about any attack. Quickly throw them to get them out of the way, or they may disrupt your flow with disastrous results.

The Bosses

Here are the three bosses you encounter. Each is unique and gets progressively tougher. When they appear, try to get to an area where you can fight them one-on-one (such as the starting point). You don't need Ryo switching his focus between the boss and one of the peons.

Shingo Murasaki

This guy appears after you've defeated 20 opponents. He's a skilled fighter, but he's really not much tougher than some of the guys you've faced in earlier battles. Regular techniques work well against him. If you knock him down, stand very close to him as he's getting back up and you can usually grab him and toss him back down again. It shouldn't take you more than a few seconds to eliminate him.

Satanhi Nagata

You encounter this pipe-toting thug after you've defeated 40 opponents. This guy is tough. He attacks quickly and his pipe increases his strength and extends his reach. Dodging doesn't work very well. The enemy tends to sweep his pipe to the side, so you'd have to get lucky and dodge to the side opposite his attack. It's better to use attacks with range such as the Hold Against Leg and the Big Wheel. These allow you to hit him while keeping your distance. If you can get close to this guy and pin him against a wall, you can quickly pound him to dust with quick combos.

Pekna Warren

The final challenge arrives after you defeat 66 enemies. This guy is huge. His gargantuan size gives him near superhuman strength and his long reach makes it difficult to get close to him. Quickly eliminate any other MAD ANGELS who're still hanging around before he approaches. You want this to be a one-on-one battle.

You wouldn't expect this guy to be quick, but he is. Try to keep a bit of distance between yourself and him and dodge constantly. Occasionally, he flies past you with a missed attack. This is your chance to either throw him or launch a short combo. Keep your attacks brief. He blocks well and long attacks are almost always countered. However, short combos that switch between punches and kicks seem to be very effective. Be very careful when trying to throw him. If he kicks up his leg, you won't be able to grab him and you'll pay the price for your indiscretion. If Ryo is low on health, back away and keep dodging to try to regain stamina. By the way, Gui Zhang doesn't help you out with this fight. In fact, he completely disappears during this battle....

How Good Are You?

Once you've beaten the game, you can access the 70 Person Free Battle Time Attack. This is an option when Disc 3 is loaded in your Dreamcast. The Time Attack pits you against the same 70 opponents, but without the assistance of Gui Zhang. Also you're playing for time and you can enter your high scores into the online rankings using the Passport Disc. You're going to have to be quick if you want to be number one!
